About Us

Steelman is more than music — it's memory, heritage, and heart. At USSA, we uplift this vibrant artform by nurturing youth, training musicians, and bringing communities together across generations

Our Mission

The United States Steel Band Association is dedicated to promoting the art of the steelpan and steel band through inclusive programs that celebrate the rich tapestry of Caribbean, African-American, European, and global cultural experiences. We provide educational access, performance opportunities, and community platforms for steelpan musicians of all ages and backgrounds.
